DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 11-16 withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 15.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 5 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification does not provide a definition of “press fit” nor does it describe how the channel is “formed to produce a press fit between the fiber optic cable and the channel”. The examiner notes that the specification does disclose that a press brake can form the channel and the examiner is unsure if this is to what the applicant is referring.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 3672

5. Claims 1, 4-6, 9, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bixenman et al. (US 2002/0092649).

Regarding claims 1 and 6: Bixenman et al. discloses a wellbore screen that includes the following features (see paragraph 0039):

- An elongated tube (106) that surrounds a filter media (104) and a screen (100).
- Elongated channels (108 and 110) formed in the tube and running the length of the tube. As seen in Figure 19, channel 108 is open to the outer surface of the tube.

Regarding claims 4 and 9: Control lines (52) run through both channels and, as cited in paragraph 0019, the lines may be fiber optic lines.

Regarding claims 5 and 10: In Figure 19, channel 108 appears to form a tight fit with the control line (52).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2, 3, 7, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bixenman et al. (US 2002/0092649) in view of Uban et al. (US 5,979,551).

Bixenman et al. discloses all of the limitations of the above claims except for the elongated tube being formed from a spirally wound strip of metal and being perforated. As seen in Figure 1, Uban et al. teaches an outer elongated tube (30) that is formed from a spirally wound metal strip (36) and is perforated (perforations (32)). It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time the invention was made, to have formed the elongated tube of Bixenman et al. from a spirally wound strip of metal with perforations as taught by Uban et al. in order to have used a tube that was easily formed to the necessary length and allowed fluid flow therethrough.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

The remaining references made of record disclose wellbore screens similar to those described above.
